As an express condition to the disclosure of Confidential Information by the Disclosing Party to the Recipient, the Parties have agreed to enter into this Agreement and be bound by the terms and conditions herein after set forth governing the disclosure, use and protection of the Confidential Information.

NOW THEREFORE in consideration of the premises and mutual obligations hereinafter described the receipt and sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, the Parties hereby covenant and agree as follows:

1. The following expressions shall have the following meanings in this Agreement:-

- (a) "Confidential Information" means information of DBS India and/or its related corporations (collectively "DBS") that DBS India designates as being confidential or which, under the circumstances surrounding disclosure, ought to be treated as confidential. Confidential Information includes, without limitation, information provided by DBS India, its related corporations, affiliates, employees, agents, representatives, advisors, consultants or customers, whether disclosed or communicated verbally, in writing or in any other tangible form, and whether relating to DBS India's business, operations, processes, plans, requirements, inventions, product or service information, pricing, know-how, design rights, trade secrets, software, systems, market opportunities, customers (including information relating to the money or other relevant particulars of the accounts or account holders of DBS India, our related corporations or affiliates) and business affairs.

However, Confidential Information shall not include information that recipient can conclusively establish:-

- i) entered or subsequently enters the public domain without its breach of any obligation owed to DBS India;
 - ii) was known to recipient prior to DBS India's disclosure of such information to recipient without any confidentiality obligations;
 - iii) became known to recipient from a source other than DBS India other than by breach of an obligation of confidentiality owed to DBS India; or
 - iv) is independently developed by recipient without reference to DBS India's Confidential Information,
- (b) "Confidential Materials" means any software and all tangible materials containing Confidential Information, including without limitation electronic, written or printed documents and computer disks or tapes, whether machine or user readable.
2. In consideration of DBS India agreeing at recipient's request to provide it with Confidential Information and Confidential Materials in order that recipient may evaluate such information in connection with the Purpose, Recipient hereby agree and undertake as follows:-
- (a) to treat the Confidential Information and Confidential Materials as strictly confidential and not to disclose or reveal the Confidential Information and Confidential Materials (or any portion thereof) to any person except:-
 - i) Recipient's (or its affiliates') employees on a strict need-to-know basis for the Purpose, provided that in such case recipient shall inform such persons of this Agreement and the confidential nature of the Confidential Information and Confidential Materials, and shall procure that such persons comply with the terms of this Agreement as if they were party hereto; or

- ii) where Recipient require the assistance of any third party other than its (or its affiliates') employees, to whom disclosure of any Confidential Information or Confidential Materials is necessary, Recipient shall first obtain DBS's prior written consent and thereafter shall inform such persons of this Agreement and the confidential nature of the Confidential Information and/or Confidential Materials, and shall procure that such persons comply with the terms of this Agreement as if they were party hereto; or
 - iii) if and to the extent disclosure is required in compliance with applicable law, or judicial or other governmental order or request, provided that in such case Recipient shall give DBS India reasonable written notice prior to such disclosure to enable DBS India to take such measures as DBS India deems necessary to limit the disclosure of the Confidential Information and Confidential Materials and Recipient shall comply with any applicable protective order or equivalent obtained;
- (b) to exercise in relation to the Confidential Information and Confidential Materials no lesser security and control measures and degree of care than those which recipient apply to its own confidential information (and which Recipient warrant as providing adequate protection against any unauthorised access, erasure, disclosure, processing, transfer, copying or use);
- (c) to keep all documents bearing or incorporating any Confidential Information and Confidential Materials separate from all other documents, records, data and materials and at its usual place of business;
- (d) to keep a written record of all copies or reproductions of any Confidential Information and Confidential Materials specifying when and by whom they were taken and to whom they have been sent (if anyone);
- (e) not to use the Confidential Information and Confidential Materials for any purpose other than the Purpose;
- (f) not to reverse engineer, decompile or disassemble any software disclosed to recipient, except pursuant to any statutory right that cannot be excluded by contract;
- (g) to notify DBS India immediately upon discovery of any unauthorised use or disclosure of Confidential Information or Confidential Materials, or any other breach of this Agreement by recipient, and to cooperate with DBS India in every way to help DBS India regain possession of the Confidential Information or Confidential Materials and prevent its further unauthorised use or disclosure; and
- (h) to immediately return all originals, copies, reproductions and summaries of Confidential Information and Confidential Materials in recipient's possession, custody or control at DBS India's request, or at DBS India's option, destroy all such Confidential Information and Confidential Materials and certify destruction of the same. save that recipient may retain one copy of the Confidential Information and Confidential Materials, for its records in compliance with regulatory requirements only and not for any other or further use or disclosure.

3. The Recipient further agree and acknowledge that:-

- (a) Monetary damages would not be a sufficient remedy for a breach of this Agreement and that DBS India shall be entitled to such injunctive or equitable relief as may be deemed proper by a court of competent jurisdiction for any actual breach of this Agreement;
- (b) All Confidential Information and Confidential Materials are and shall remain DBS India's property and that, by disclosing Confidential Information and Confidential Materials to recipient, DBS India does not grant any express or implied right to recipient to or under any of DBS India's patents, copyrights, trademarks, designs or other intellectual property or other rights;
- (c) The Parties accept no responsibility for and make no representation or warranty, express or implied, with respect to the truth, accuracy, completeness or reasonableness of the Confidential Information and/or Confidential Materials. DBS India shall not be liable to recipient or any other person in respect of the Confidential Information and/or Confidential Materials or their use;
- (d) The Confidential Information and Confidential Materials may contain confidentiality clauses. If such documents are made available to recipient, it undertakes that it will thereafter not do any act which would result in DBS India being in breach of such confidentiality clauses (other than the use of such information for the Purpose referred to in this Agreement and the disclosure of it to other permitted persons in accordance with this Agreement);
- (e) DBS India's failure to exercise or delay in exercising a right or remedy provided by this Agreement or by law does not constitute a waiver of such right or remedy or a waiver of other rights or remedies. No single or partial exercise of a right or remedy provided by this Agreement or by law prevents further exercise by DBS India of such right or remedy or the exercise of any other right or remedy. No waiver by DBS shall be effective unless made in writing and signed by our authorised signatory; and
- (f) The Recipient shall not make any public statements or announcements in connection with this Agreement, unless DBS India's prior written approval is obtained.
