NM Not Meaningful

Fourth-quarter net profit rose 38% from a year ago to $678 million. Similar to the earlier quarters of 2010, non-interest income was higher and allowances were lower than the year-ago period.

Net profit was 6% lower than the previous quarter as net trading income fell in line with quieter treasury markets during the year-end and net income from financial investments declined. Business volume trends continued to be healthy.

Net interest income rose 3% from the previous quarter to $1.11 billion. Loans grew 3% from corporate borrowing across the region and housing loan drawdowns in Singapore. Net interest margin was stable at 1.79%.

Non-interest income fell 15% from the previous quarter to $623 million. Net fee income rose from higher investment banking and wealth management revenues, but the impact was more than offset by declines in net trading income and net income on financial investments. Customer revenues continued to account for a significant portion of net trading income.

Expenses rose 7% from the previous quarter to $780 million due to higher brand marketing costs and infrastructure investments.

The non-performing loan rate improved from 2.1% in the previous quarter to 1.9%. General and specific allowances of $157 million were set aside, 19% below the previous quarter. Allowance coverage rose to 100% from 97%.

For the full-year, net profit (before one-time items) rose 28% to $2.65 billion from higher customer-driven non-interest income and a decline in allowances.

Return on equity was 10.2% for the fourth quarter as well as for the full year. DBS remained well capitalised with total capital adequacy ratio at 18.4%, tier -1 at 15.1% and core tier-1 at 11.8%.

Revenues for all quarters were higher than the year-ago period due to gains in non-interest income. Net interest income was marginally lower as a decline in interest margins offset the benefit of loan growth.

Expenses rose at a faster pace than revenues for the second half of the year as headcount and investment costs increased. The impact of cost increases was offset by a decline in allowances. Profit before tax as well as net profit was higher for all four quarters. The third quarter's net profit was a quarterly record.

Note:

^{1/} Net interest margin is net interest income expressed as a percentage of average interest-earning assets

Net interest income rose 3% from the previous quarter to $1.11 billion.

Net interest margin was stable at 1.79%. While customer loan yields were lower, deposit costs also declined, partly the result of a shift in the deposit mix towards lower-yielding currencies.

For the full year, net interest income fell 3% to $4.32 billion. Net interest margins declined from 2.02% to 1.84% due to a soft interest rate environment and normalising credit spreads. The lower margins offset the benefit of higher asset volumes and an improved asset mix.

Net fee and commission income rose by 5% from the previous quarter to $358 million. The gains were broad-based and led by higher investment banking activity and improved demand for unit trusts and bancassurance products. These gains were partly offset by a decline in loan-related income.

Net fee and commission income for year was unchanged at $1.40 billion. An improvement in wealth management revenues was offset by lower margins in trade and remittances and by a decline in loan-related fees.

Net trading income (including net income from financial instruments designated at fair value) fell 26% from the previous quarter to $164 million. Customer revenues continued to account for a substantial portion of net trading income.

Net income on financial investments also declined from the previous quarter due to fewer profit-taking opportunities.

For the full year, other non-interest income rose 79% to $1.35 billion as net trading income, net income on financial investments and net gain on fixed assets rose.

Notes:

1/ With effect from 1 January 2010, the Group has adopted a revised capital benefit and fund transfer policy. The business segments have also been reaggregated following a review. Comparative figures have been restated to conform to the current year presentation

2/ Excludes goodwill charges and one-time items

3/ Amounts for each business segment are shown before allocation of centralised cost

4/ Refer to sections on Customer Loans and Non-Performing Assets and Loss Allowance Coverage for more information on business segments

The business segment results are prepared based on the Group's internal management reporting which reflects the organisation management structure. As the activities of the Group are highly integrated, internal allocation has been made in preparing the segment information. Amounts for each business segment are shown after the allocation of certain centralised costs, funding income and the application of transfer pricing, where appropriate. Transactions between segments are recorded within the segment as if they are third party transactions and are eliminated on consolidation. During the quarter, no one group of related customers generated more than 10% of the Group's revenues.

The external presentation of the business segment results has been revised from first-quarter 2010 to better reflect internal management reporting. In addition, the Group adopted a revised capital benefit and fund transfer policy with effect from 1 January 2010. Comparative figures have been restated to conform to the current presentation.

The various business segments are described below:

Consumer/ Private Banking

Consumer/ Private Banking provides individual customers with a diverse range of banking and related financial services. The products and services available to customers include current and savings accounts, fixed deposits, loans and home finance, cards, payments, investment and insurance products.

Compared to the previous quarter, net interest income was higher from loan growth, which more than offset lower housing loan margins. Non-interest income benefited from higher wealth management and credit card revenues. Expenses were higher due to higher staff costs arising from headcount increases as well as investments in infrastructure. Specific allowances for private banking were lower.

For the full year, net interest income was unchanged as higher loan volumes were offset by lower housing loan margins. Non-interest income benefited from better wealth management revenues. The increase in expenses was due to compensation to customers who had bought Constellation notes in Hong Kong, as well as higher staff and infrastructure costs. Specific allowances declined for unsecured loan and private banking clients, which more than offset an increase in general allowances.

Institutional Banking

Institutional Banking provides financial services and products to institutional clients including non bank financial institutions, government linked companies, large corporates and small and medium-sized businesses. The business focus is to broaden and deepen the financial relationship with clients. The products and services available to customers include long and short term credit facilities ranging from specialised lending such as asset financing, project financing and real estate financing to overdraft, trade, receivables financing and structured trade; cash management and deposit; treasury and markets; corporate finance and advisory banking services for mergers and acquisitions, capital raising through debt and equity markets, capital restructuring, syndicated finance, securities and fiduciary services and private equity. Institutional Banking also provides equity services through DBS Vickers Securities (DBSV). DBSV offers a wide range of services to retail and corporate customers including research, sales and trading, share placement, nominees and securities custodian services and distribution of primary and secondary issues.

Net interest income rose from the previous quarter as higher loan volumes were partially offset by lower margins. Non-interest income fell as lower loan-related and treasury product sales revenues were partially offset by higher investment banking revenue. Expenses rose due to higher infrastructure investments. General allowances were higher.

For the full year, net interest income rose with higher loan volumes, while non-interest income growth was driven by treasury product sales. Both staff and non-staff costs were higher. Specific allowances declined with asset quality improvements while general allowances rose in line with stronger loan growth.

Treasury

Treasury provides treasury services to corporations, institutional and private investors, financial institutions and other market participants. It is primarily involved in sales, structuring, market making and trading across a broad range of financial products including foreign exchange, interest rate, debt, credit, equity and other structured derivatives. Income from these financial products and services offered to the customer of other business segments, such as Consumer/Private Banking and Institutional Banking, is reflected in the respective segments. Treasury is also responsible for facilitating the execution of Group's asset and liability interest rate positions and management of the investment of the Group's excess liquidity and shareholders' funds.

Treasury's total revenues were lower than the previous quarter due to quieter year-end markets. For the full year, total revenues were little changed.

Others

Others encompasses a range of activities from corporate decisions and income and expenses not attributed to other business segments.

The performance by geography is classified based on the location in which income and assets are recorded.

Singapore

Net profit rose 10% from the previous quarter to $471 million. The tax rate declined due to a write-back of previous accruals.

Net interest income rose 4% from the previous quarter in line with higher corporate and housing loan volumes. Non-interest income declined 6% due to lower trading gains and loan-related fees, which were partially offset by higher investment banking and wealth management revenues.

Expenses rose 5% as advertising and infrastructure investments rose. Allowances were stable.

For the full year, net profit rose 42% to $1.69 billion from better treasury product sales revenues and lower specific allowances. These improvements were partially offset by lower interest margins and higher expenses. There was also a larger tax-writeback in 2009.

Hong Kong

The fourth quarter's results incorporate an appreciation of the Singapore dollar against the Hong Kong dollar of 3% from the previous quarter and 7% from a year ago. Net profit fell 24% from the previous quarter to $144 million as non-interest income declined and expenses rose.

Net interest income was stable from the previous quarter. Loan volumes were little changed while deposits grew 6% in local currency terms. Net interest margin fell seven basis points to 1.49% as interbank rates declined and the asset mix had a larger proportion of interbank assets.

Non-interest income fell 19% from the previous quarter as loan-related fees and trading income declined, which were partially offset by better wealth management revenues and higher gains from fixed asset sales.

Expenses rose 20% due to higher advertising, infrastructure and staff costs. Allowances declined 11% as general allowances fell. Specific allowances were stable.

For the full year, net profit rose 25% to $579 million as non-interest income benefited from stronger treasury product sales and as specific allowances declined. These gains were partially offset by lower interest margins and an increase in staff and infrastructure investment costs.

Gross customer loans rose 3% from the previous quarter to $154.7 billion. Excluding currency effects, loan growth was 4%. The growth was led by broad-based regional corporate loan demand. Housing loan growth was due to drawdowns in Singapore.

Gross loans were 16% higher than a year ago, with half of the increase in Singapore-dollar loans. The expansion was spread across most regions and across corporate and consumer borrowers.

ADOPTION OF NEW OR REVISED FRS AND INT FRS

FRS 27: Consolidated and Separate Financial Statements

The standard requires the effects of all transactions with non-controlling interests to be recorded in equity if there is no change in control. Such transactions will have no impact on goodwill, nor will it give rise to a gain or loss. The standard also specifies the accounting when control is lost. Any remaining interest in the entity is re-measured to fair value, and a gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss.

The changes introduced by FRS 27 must be applied prospectively and will affect future transactions with non-controlling interests.

FRS 103: Business Combinations

The revised FRS 103 becomes effective for financial years beginning on or after 1 January 2010. It introduces a number of changes in the accounting for business combinations. For example, there is a choice on an acquisition-by-acquisition basis to measure the non-controlling interest in the acquiree either at fair value or at the non-controlling interest's proportionate share of the acquiree's net assets. All acquisition-related costs should be expensed.

The changes introduced by FRS 103 must be applied prospectively and will affect future business combinations.

There is no expected material impact on the Group's financial statements from the adoption of all the other new or revised FRS and INT FRS highlighted on page 2.
